NEW BRIDGES FOR NEWBORNS

St. Joseph Hospital has received a new 3-year grant from the Children and Families Commission of Orange County to support our participation in the countywide Bridges Maternal Child Health Network.

This grant will help fund our efforts to ensure that children are born healthy and have full access to comprehensive health services, including dental care. Through this program, we provide families with education, screening, and linkage to services, including referrals for home visitation and health access services by public health nurses and other professional staff. More mothers will receive early prenatal care and support for breastfeeding. This grant will also ensure that any child-development concerns are identified and addressed early. More children will be adequately immunized, and more children will have a regular and appropriate place for health care.

To learn more about the New Bridges for Newborns grant, please contact the Foundation at 714-347-7900 or foundation@stjoe.org.

ESTATE GIFT SUPPORTS THE GREATEST NEED AT ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL

For over forty years, Bill and Virginia Marshall raised their eight children and ran a successful business in the city of Santa Ana. During their lifetime, they used the hospital for many services and became long-time supporters when they made their first gift in 1973.

Their generous support to the hospital and loyalty to the community throughout the years has touched us all in many ways, and St. Joseph Hospital is grateful for the honor of being named as beneficiary of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall's estate.

The proceeds of their significant gift support the hospital's greatest need projects, including the Emergency Care Center and Cancer Services.

For more information on how estate and gift planning can support and sustain St. Joseph Hospital's vital programs, please contact the Foundation at 714-347-7900 or visit www.sjogift.org.

A full treasure chest for children receiving cancer treatment at St. Joseph Hospital is a gift that gives all year long. Both Milan Capital Management and Orange Coast Infniti committed time and resources to bringing toys to young patients.

Christopher Nicholson, President of Milan Capital Management, Inc. shared “[of worthy causes in Southern California] none has been more meaningful to us than our efforts to bring a happy holiday to the children receiving care at The Center for Cancer Prevention and Treatment at St. Joseph Hospital.”

“All year long, but especially during the holidays, the children of our community need to know that we care about them. Cancer treatment impacts the whole family and seeing a child smile when receiving a toy after treatment—that is the real gift.” shared Ali Kahn, Executive Manager of Orange Coast Infniti.

Cancer treatment can be daunting for anyone and the restocking of the treasure chest gave the children joy, holiday cheer, and hope in what can feel like a dark situation.
